YUMA TERRITORIAL PRISON

Yuma, Arizona

This State Historic Park, in Yuma, Arizona housed 3,069 prisoners while it served as the Arizona Territorial Prison from 1876-1909. The original cells, main gate, and guard tower still remain as an eerie reminder of old west prison life. The park now includes a museum, gift shop, and picnic area.

DEAR DAD & Shirley,

I'm now in Yuma working hard + having fun! We saw this prison + an old (1915) road made of wood planks. We also saw vast sand dunes where they were having fun on dune buggies.
 There are acres + acres of beautiful veges + the Colorado River meanders just on the outskirts of town.
 I love you bunches. Mom & Dad
